Destination:
Located 15 miles north of Venezuela in the warm waters of the southern Caribbean, Aruba is home to beautiful white-sand beaches, 82-degree days, and some of the warmest people in the world. Aruba is 30.16 miles long and 20.9 miles across, with a total area of 186 square miles. It's home to beautiful white-sand beaches, 82-degree days, and some of the warmest people in the world.

Aruba is 19.6 miles long and 6 miles across, with a total area of 70 square miles. It's located just below the hurricane belt, and unlike many islands in the Caribbean, the climate is dry, so it rarely has a rainy day. On the south and west coasts of Aruba, you'll find Oranjestad, the capital city, and miles of beaches that have been named some of the best in the world. Here, you'll find most of the hotels and all-inclusive resorts in Aruba, and Queen Beatrix International Airport (AUA).

In the interior of the island, you'll find Aruba's most striking views, as the ocean crashes against the rugged shoreline below. On the northeast coast, along the windward shore, you’ll see the island’s unoffiicial mascots, the fofoti trees. The constant trade winds have permanently sculpted them into graceful, southwesterly bending forms.
