MSU-COM ALUMNI CONTINUE COMMITMENT TO PRIMARY CARE IN MICHIGAN

Three-fourths of the physicians from MSU-COM's first ten graduating classes are practicing or training in primary care, and nearly two-thirds of these classes are working in Michigan.

The most recent data summarized by the MSU-COM Alumni Association again show over last year a slight increase of physicians engaged in primary care (up 0.6% to 74.9%), and a slight decrease of those practicing in Michigan (down 0.7% to 64.6%). These data include the Classes of 1973 through 1982; 1983 graduates, who are on rotating internships, are not included.

Primary care is defined to include general practice, internal medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, and pediatrics.

Among the most chosen specialties were 31 in general surgery, 25 in psychiatry, 22 in orthopedic surgery, 17 in anesthesiology, and 15 in radiology. Five have chosen to specialize in osteopathic manipulative medicine.

Location of all alumni in Michigan by county and in the nation by state is shown on maps on page 2. Within Michigan, the strongest concentration of MSU-COM alumni parallels the distribution of all D.O.s in the state and the state's osteopathic hospitals: 117 in Oakland County, 89 in Wayne County, 47 in Ingham County, 39 in Macomb County, 25 in Kent County and 21 in Genesee County. Alumni are now present in 47 Michigan counties.

Out-of-state alumni are spread through 39 states, with the highest concentrations in Ohio (37), Arizona (23), Florida (26), California (21), Texas (14), Washington (13) and Illinois (13).

WHO WILL BE THE 1984
ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR??

Nominations are still being solicited from MSU-COM alumni for the 1984 "Alumnus of the Year," an individual who exemplifies public service, clinical expertise and a strong commitment to the osteopathic profession.

The award, which includes a plaque for the recipient and a monetary grant to the MSU-COM student loan fund in the recipient's name, will be presented during the Alumni Scientific Seminar September 14-15.

Nominations, including pertinent data on qualifications, should be sent to Rosemary Havey, D.O., 1748 Shore Club Dr., St. Clair Shores, Michigan, 48080.
RETURN TO MAUI FOR '85's
SEMINAR IN THE SUN

The 82 persons who joined the MSU-COM hula caravan this year were so taken with Maui, Hawaii, they've decided to repeat the experience.

The 1985 seminar in the sun sponsored by the MSU-COM Alumni Association will be held in Maui March 14-23. Guests will stay in the Kaanapali Alii Condominiums, which have spectacular ocean and mountain views.

Activities there include airplane rides over craters, deep-sea fishing, sailing, whale-watching, pool and beach parties, a luau, a catamaran cocktail cruise, and optional excursions.

A program of 20 hours CME credit will also be offered. For information, contact Sandy Kilbourn, MSU-COM, at 517/355-9611, or Susie Imam of Conlin Travel at 800/521-7939 outside Michigan, 313/769-9680 within Michigan.

A EUROPEAN CME SYMPOSIUM:
GREECE JUNE 17-28

A unique integration of the ancient and the modern will welcome participants in MSU-COM's tour to Greece, scheduled June 17-28, 1985.

The excursion, which will include a 20-hour continuing medical education program, is sponsored by the MSU-COM Alumni Association and the Greek Medical Society.

The program features sightseeing on air-conditioned motorcoach to Athens and the Acropolis, Delphi, Cape Sounion and the Temple of Poseidon, Corinth, Epidaurus, Nauplia, Olympia and Corfu Island. An optional Greek Island cruise is available.

Accomodations include round-trip 747 jet air service from New York to Athens, accommodaions at deluxe seaside resorts and traditional hotels, a professional tour escort, and welcome and farewell parties. Trip extensions are available to Israel, Europe and Africa.

For further information, contact Sandy Kilbourn, MSU-COM, 517/355-9611, or Susan Imam, Conlin Travel Agency, 800/521-7939 outside Michigan; 313/769-9680 within Michigan.

A REUNION WITH SOME FAVORITE PROFS!
September 14-15 at Kellogg Center

An opportunity for MSU-COM alumni to become reunited with some favorite profs will be available at this year's Alumni Scientific Seminar and Football Weekend, September 14-15 at Kellogg Center.

Open to all, the program includes the MSU/Notre Dame football game, a banquet, case studies in adolescent medicine, and presentations from professors who have consistently been recognized for their teaching skill by students.

Chairman of the program is John Thornburg. For more information, call 517/353-9714.
THE ANNUAL GATHERING OF THE D.O. CLAN

They lunched at Tootsies, perused the exhibits, chatted at receptions, gave papers in the educational programs, picked up old friendships, and politicked...a little.

It was the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, this year held at the Amway Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids May 17-19. And, as usual, personnel from MSU-COM were much in evidence.

The College held a major reception on Thursday evening, when several hundred friends, alumni, faculty, staff and students joined for conversation, drinks and an hors d'oeuvre buffet.

Both the College and the Student Associate Auxiliary had exhibits at the convention, distributing to passersby everything from CME brochures to Sparty appliques.

A 14-minute videotape on innovations at MSU-COM was shown before the House of Delegates, and detailed some of our research and education efforts.

A number of faculty and alumni gave presentations during the educational program. The included:

- Kenneth Stringer, D.O., '74 alumnus, assistant professor of pediatrics
- Lester Burkow, D.O., '73 alumnus and clinical associate professor of osteopathic medicine.
- David R. Mandy, D.O., '73 alumnus, clinical assistant professor of pediatrics
- Robert Stokes, D.O., '78 alumnus
- Joseph A. Balog, D.O., clinical associate professor of osteopathic medicine.
- Herbert Y. Bez, D.O. clinical associate professor of osteopathic medicine.
- Robert Cornwall, D.O., clinical associate professor of internal medicine.
- Harvey Roth, D.O., clinical associate professor of osteopathic medicine.
- Steven Roth, D.O., clinical associate professor of osteopathic medicine.
- Randolph G. Roulier, D.O., clinical professor of osteopathic medicine.
- Thomas E. Schomaker, D.O., clinical assistant professor of pediatrics
- John Serini, D.O., clinical instructor in internal medicine.

CLASS OF '74: PLANNING AN ONGOING REUNION!

The MSU-COM Class of '74, noting the ten years since its graduation, is planning to meet at least twice a year as an "organization," albeit one without dues or fees.

The inaugural meeting of the class will be held August 16-18 at the Wequassett Inn on Pleasant Bay, Cape Cod. The 100-year-old inn is nestled in 22 acres of pines overlooking the bay, and has a private beach. The main dining room is located in a restored 18th century sea captain's mansion.

A medical program is planned, including topics such as how a spouse can enhance the practice, office overhead, how patients find medical attention, and practice in the '80s and beyond.

The reunion was organized by Steven Kessler.
Class of 73

John C. Baumann, D.O., has been elected chairman of the surgery department at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital, Trenton.

Ron Columbus, D.O., is medical adviser for Strax Breast Cancer Detection Center in Sunrise, Florida. He is taking an associate, Dr. Cary Shames, a 1983 graduate of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Roger K. Schwartzberg, D.O., of Seminole, Florida, is a specialist in internal medicine and vice chief of staff at Metropolitan General Hospital. He also serves on the governing board of University General Hospital. He has two sons, Jeremy, age 6, and Joshua, age 2.

Class of 74

Kenneth Stringer, D.O., assistant professor of pediatrics, was certified by the American Osteopathic Board of Pediatrics in February 1983, and the American Board of Pediatrics in May 1984.

Class of 75

William G. Anderson II, D.O., has moved to 5435 Woodward, Detroit, 48202.

Glen Hatcher, Jr., D.O., was certified in ophthalmology March 12, and inducted into the College of Ophthalmology and Otoneurology in Denver on May 1. He also served as the guest editor of the March 1984 issue of the Michigan Osteopathic Journal.

Lori Elizabeth Levine, D.O., is practicing in Tucson, Arizona. She writes "any old friends visiting, please look me up."

Gordon Spink, D.O., Ph.D., will become a full-time faculty member in the Department of Family Medicine at MSU-COM in September. He most recently has been serving as director of medical education at Lansing General Hospital.

Class of 76

Craig H. Bethune, D.O., relocated his practice from Cedar Springs to Grand Rapids on May 1.

Kevin B. Karikomi, D.O., has completed a residency in general internal medicine at Doctors Hospital, Columbus, Ohio. He was granted certification by the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine in March 1984. Dr. Karikomi was appointed chief resident beginning July 1 in the Department of Dermatology, Wayne State University School of Medicine.
Class of 77

Shirley A. Harding, D.O. is beginning the last year of her urology residency, and notes she "enjoys work. No new activities since I last wrote. Daughter, Alissa, 17 months old, keeps us busy!"

Edna R. Bick, D.O., just opened her second office in Mt. Morris where she continues singing, and playing guitar and bass in the band "Independent Means -- the Women of." She writes "Can't ignore the creative urge!"

Arthur L. Bouier, D.O., has been appointed to the board of trustees of Visa (Horizon Health Corporation) and the board of trustees for the peer review organization for Wayne County. He is also serving as president of the Michigan Osteopathic Society.

James L. Hamilton, D.O., recently completed requirements and examinations for certification as a specialist in preventive medicine/occupational medicine. He is presently working at the General Motors' Hydramatic Facility in Ypsilanti as an occupational physician.

Gerald Hausler, D.O., has been elected president of the Albany County chapter of the New York State Academy of Family Physicians.

Raymond E. Kania, D.O., and his wife Cathy announce the birth of their fourth child, Kyle Alexander Kania, weighing in at nine pounds on May 4, 1984. Kyle joins other children Heather, age 5, Melissa, age 3½, and Brandon, age 1½.

Kurt H. Steinke, D.O., recently moved his practice from Rochester to Arizona. He is now associated with David R. Collins, D.O. They have offices in Mesa and Chandler, both suburbs of Phoenix.

Class of 78

Tedd Rink, D.O., is in private practice in San Francisco Bay area and is developing a multidisciplinary evaluation and treatment clinic for disorders of the psyche/soma -- "a sort of 'osteopathic psychiatry,' " she writes. "It's very exciting to be on the frontier. I'd welcome input in this area that any of my friends and colleagues might have."

Sarah Clune, D.O., finished a pediatric residency at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, in 1982. She worked as director of ambulatory pediatrics at Beaumont Hospital until fall 1983, when she joined Pediatric Associates of Farmington.

Howard Frieman, D.O., and Bruce Hirschman, D.O., are still in family practice together in Grants Pass, Oregon, and "would be pleased to hear from or see any friends."

Ron Marino, D.O., is a full-time pediatric faculty member at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey School of Osteopathic Medicine. He's "still swimming daily."

Bill McDevitt, D.O., has recently associated with Tri-County Urologists in the metropolitan Detroit area. He and wife Nancy Carty have two sons, Ryan (4) and John (2).

Michael N. Musci Jr., D.O., presented "Comparison of Short Term vs. Long Term Ritodrine Exposure" during a poster session at the annual meeting of the Society for Pediatric Research. His study was conducted during a fellowship in neonatology at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania Hospital.

Mark Rosenberg, D.O., has opened offices in Detroit and Westland for the practice of dermatology.

Fred Wakerley, D.O., is taking a residency in anesthesiology beginning this summer at Mount Clemens General Hospital. Ray Rabideau, D.O., 1983 MSU-COM graduate, will assume his general practice in Grand Haven.

Class of 79

Randall Bowsman, D.O., will be completing an anesthesiology residency at the Medical College of Virginia in one year. His son, Adam, was born eight months ago.

Tamzon (Rachel Tuthill) Feeney, D.O., will be teaching the first Sutherland Cranial Teaching Foundation course in cranial osteopathy in Belgium in September. She writes "I just bought my first house! It's a 150-year old original Indiana settler's log cabin. I changed my last name to my maiden name 'Feeney' in October 1983."

Donald L. Hillman, D.O., has completed his fourth year of family practice in Charlotte, where he shares weekend call with alumnus Jim Balger. He notes "We have three children, Katie age 4, Robert, age 3, and Patrick, 11 months. We are still Spartan fans which included a trip to Lake Placid when the hockey team was in the final four. We are busy, healthy, and 'trying' for our third season in golf."

David Kahler, D.O., is a pediatric resident at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

John Meulendyk, D.D.S., D.O., M.P.H., became board-certified in preventive medicine and public health in March. He published a paper in the April 1984 issue of the Journal of the American Osteopathic Association entitled "Anesthetic Considerations with Amiodarone." He also has been appointed as the southeastern Michigan representative to the newly-formed MSMS-MAOP&S Committee on Treating the Impaired Physician, and has been elected to the board of directors of Clean Rooms International, a company producing environmental control technology throughout the United States. He lives with wife Catherine L. Cook, D.O. (also '79), who practices anesthesiology in Tecumseh, and their daughter Jessica Ruth.

Merrilee J. Osborn, D.O., has joined the Department of Pediatrics at MSU-COM as an assistant professor. She had spent 15 months in private pediatric practice in Carson City.

Mark E. Rosen, D.O., is completing his first year of practice in the San Francisco Bay area. He writes he's "working hard, practicing osteopathy and raising a family. Hello to all old friends and colleagues. Life is hard, fast and lots of fun."
Susan Swindler, D.O., was married on May 6, 1984 to Robin Rose, who owns a business in Southfield and owns and works a farm in Fowlerville. She is medical director of the Medical Center of Brighton, affiliated with McPherson Community Health Center in Howell, and offers walk-in emergency, industrial medicine, family practice, orthopedics and internal medicine. She writes, "Doing great! We had a wonderful honeymoon, spending a week each in London and Paris."

Ralph T. Walsh, D.O., and wife Patricia have a new son, Neil Danner Walsh, born April 19, 1984. Dr. Walsh is a staff anesthesiologist at Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital.

Class of 80

John Beyer, D.O., and wife Laurie recently had a new addition to their family -- Claire Marie, born on April 27. Their first child, Jonathan, is three years old. Dr. Beyer will finish his psychiatry residency in June, and the family will move to Lewistown, Montana, in July, where he will work for at least two years for the National Health Service."

Glaucio H. Bechara, D.O., writes "I've really enjoyed solo practice (general practice) for two years and hope all my classmates of Classes of 1979 and 1980 are fulfilling their lives also. I do miss all of them! Crazy? But truly do! Why not a class reunion as 'madman' Paul Gauthier suggested the first day of class back in June 1976?"

John Gawronski, D.O., in June will have completed the first year of a residency in internal medicine offered by GME Inc. through Michigan State University and three area hospitals. His plans may include a pulmonary fellowship.

Lt. David L. Louwsma, M.C., U.S.N.R., is acting as a Navy flight surgeon for a Marine Corps Carrier Squadron. His children, Laurie and Jeff, are living with him in Cherry Point, North Carolina. On June 2 he will marry a former Navy nurse, Dorothy Selak, of Tanawanda, New York.

Kevin O'Connell, D.O., finishes a family practice residency at St. Mary's Hospital in Madison, Wisconsin, on June 30. He and Jill have one daughter, Megan, who will be two years old in June, and are expecting their second child in early December. Dr. O'Connell will be working as an emergency room physician in Wisconsin.

Class of 81

Phillip R. Bryant, D.O., is currently a captain in the U.S. Army, stationed at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. He will become chief resident in the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation beginning in July. He is the father of three girls, Noelle (4), Audrey (2½) and Danielle (5 months).
David Daitch, D.O., is working full-time as an emergency room physician at the Community Hospital of North Las Vegas.

Glenn V. Dregansky, D.O., is finishing his residency in family practice with the Army in June. He notes "after taking the AEP boards, Melodie, Angela, Neal and I will be leaving for my new job as clinical commander, Hohenfels, Federal Republic of Germany. We're alive and well and looking forward to three years in Europe."

Patricia J. Fogle, D.O., is working with two other doctors in rural Appalachia for White House Clinic, with offices in Berea and McKee, Kentucky. She writes there are "so far only two unfriendly creatures and fortunately I haven't met either one -- the rattlesnakes and copperheads! Otherwise, good country living!"

George Gourley, D.O., is in his third year of an obstetrics and gynecology residency at Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital. He and his wife Elene have six children, the last, Jaclyn, born January 6, 1984.

Jill L. Hendra, D.O., has been elected chief resident for 1984-85 in psychiatry at MSU, which has the only dual-approved AOA/AMA program in psychiatry in the United States.

Peter Rodin, D.O., and Laura are parents of their first child, Lindsay Karen Rodin, born May 20, 1984, at six pounds, 14 ounces. Dr. Rodin will join the teaching staff at Bon Secours Hospital's family practice department upon completion of a family practice residency in July.

Patricia Mucci-LoRusso, D.O., will complete an internal medicine residency at Riverside Osteopathic Hospital and begin a three-year oncology fellowship at Harper Grace Hospital in Detroit in July 1985.

Gary Weber, D.O., and wife Marcy are the parents of a second baby girl, Lauren Marie, born April 12, 1984. Dr. Weber will begin a fellowship in cardiology at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, July 1.

Class of 82

Sister Anne Brooks, D.O., was recently honored at the Tallahatchie Development League Awards Banquet with a certificate of praise for providing medical attention to the needy in Tutwiler, Mississippi, area. Her clinic hosted members from a Physician Task Force on Hunger in America from the Harvard University School of Public Health. She was also featured in a major article, "Lifeline to Mississippi Poor" in the March/April 1984 issue of Extension.

Daniel P. Eardley, D.O., is currently a second-year resident in general surgery at Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital. He was married in October 1983 to Carol L. Eardley.

June D. Hilleson, D.O., M.S., an internal medicine resident at the Cleveland Clinic, will move July 1 to Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Lawrence D. Sills, D.O., and Brent R. Allan, D.O., are moving into their new building in Phoenix, Arizona, and are completing their first year in private practice. They write they are "enjoying the Southwest environs while promoting osteopathic family practice and preventive medicine."

Michael Verrilli, D.O., has completed the first year of an internal medicine residency at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

Class of 83

Kevin Florek, D.O., has moved to 214 Brittian, Lake Orion, 48035.

Tom Chiambretti, D.O., will begin an internal medicine residency at MSU on July 1.

Charlene M. Greene, D.O., will be entering general practice in Honor, with Joseph Cook, D.O., beginning August 1.

Graham M. Kelly, D.O., has joined 1975 alumnus James G. Morgan, D.O., in his family medicine and obstetrics practice in Perry. Goal of the clinic is to provide minor emergency medical care.

Bill Denam, D.O., will be finishing an internship at Botsford General Hospital in June, and will be moving with wife Lori, son Bill (3½) and daughter Amy (1½) to Dallas in July. There he will assume a general practice position. He writes "wish for all to look me up next time they are in Dallas."

Brian Doughty, D.O. will begin a general practice in July with George Williams, D.O., in Gaylord.

William R. Grace, D.O., will be finishing his internship July 1, and will be moving with wife Marsha and children Matt (3) and Marla (6) to Cadillac. He will join an established two-man family practice group there.

David Jadwin, D.O., will begin a pathology residency at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, on July 1. He also will have research activities jointly with the Department of Clinical Investigation and the U.S. Army Institute of Surgical Research.

Joyce Michael, D.O., will marry Michael Trumbull, a Detroit psychologist, in August. They will reside in Southfield. She is doing a general practice residency at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital for 1984-85.

Arnis Pone, D.O., is beginning an emergency medicine residency at Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital in July. He writes "Say hi to everyone, and I hope everyone is happy and healthy."

Raul Rodas, D.O., will begin his neurosurgical residency in Tulsa, Oklahoma this July. He reports he "just recuperated from an 'Iron Man Contest' here in Florida, where I finished 41st out of a field of 260!"
CLASSNOTES LATE ADDITIONS

Joyce Johnson, D.O. ('80), has been studying risk factors for transmission of AIDS among Haitians for the AIDS Activity, Center for Disease Control, Atlanta. In February, she went with DoCare to the Yucatan Peninsula to provide volunteer medical care. Recently she completed a CDC residency in public health and preventive medicine, and is now board certified.

Brent R. Allan ('82) and Lawrence D. Sills ('82) are practicing family medicine and preventive health care at Desert Health Associates, P.C., and have opened their new offices at 14640 N. Totum Blvd., Phoenix, AZ, 85032. They are also co-medical-directors of the Southwest Clinic, the only free clinic in metropolitan Phoenix. This clinic has recently become an integral part of Phoenix General Hospital's family practice residency program under their supervision.

Linda L. Kurtz ('83) will finish her internship at Metropolitan Hospital - Central Division, Philadelphia, at the end of June. She writes "I'm looking forward to starting my radiology residency at Mercy Catholic Medical Center in the area in July. Husband Jim has done well as a first-year medical student at Thomas Jefferson University."
