

Undergraduate American Academy of Osteopathy MSUCOM Chapter

The UAAO organization is committed to developing and extending the principles of Osteopathy through academic and community ventures. Student members have the opportunity to treat patients from the community in the clinic with OMM modalities. Additionally, students have the opportunity to work with Spartan athletes in an injury prevention study focusing on stress fractures. The club offers several electives to further enrich manipulative medicine education and provide opportunities for practice and shadowing of numerous OMM professionals. A yearly Convocation is also attended by members and offers an additional educational and networking event.
